

BETTING IS ACTIVE

Sports Beginning to Place Money on Favorites in the World Series.

FIRST GAME ON MONDAY

(American News Service)

Chicago, Oct. 14.—The betting market on the world's series which until today has been unusually lethargic, awoke with a rattle when a pool of $77,500 made up entirely by members of the stock exchange was turned over to J. B. Hallinger, with instructions to place all or any part of it on the Cubs to win the opening game of the series at Philadelphia next Monday. That the pool was sent out of town, instead of being placed on the local bourse is better understood when it is stated that the result of the All-Stars-Athletics series in which Mack's pachyderms have been handed a brilliant lacing, had the effect of creating a more or less chaotic market; incidentally stimulating admirers of the Athletics to demand outrageous prices, varying from 5 to 10 to 1. In explaining the pool entrusted to him Hallinger said that there were few strings attached to it.

"My bets will not be confined to the one game, in fact I have three propositions for the Easterners. If they appeal strongly to them and the pool is quickly taken up I have power to draw on the boys for a further bank roll. Here are the conditions of my proposed wagers:

"7 to 5, the Cubs win the first game.
"7 to 10 that the Cubs win four out of the first five.
"Even money the Cubs win the series in six games."

WIRE FLASHES!

CIRCLES THE CAPITOL.

Washington, Oct. 14.—The dome of the capitol was circled by the English aviator, Claude Graham White in his aeroplane this noon to the great delight of all the government department employees, who quit work to witness the most daring flight ever seen in Washington. The flight was announced until the city's inhabitants heard the whirling of a motor overhead. Thousands soon got wise and roofs became black with spectators. Starting from Benning's race track the aviator performed graceful evolutions finally landing in a vacant lot near the White House.

BLOW TO CHARLTON.

Jersey City, Oct. 14.—Judge Blair of the common pleas court decided today that Porter Charlton shall be turned over to the federal government for extradition to Italy for the murder of his wife, who was thrust alive into a trunk that was thrown into Lake Como.

A TERRIFIC GALE.

Hartlepool, England, Oct. 14.—More than two hundred lives are reported lost from many vessels wrecked in a terrific gale sweeping the British coast. Twenty-five bodies were washed ashore wearing life belts marked "Cranford." It is the belief that the vessels entire crew and passenger list of sixty persons have been lost.

STORM SWEEPED CUBA.

New Orleans, Oct. 14.—The Cuban town of Casilda in Santa Clara province was devastated and many lives lost in a tropical tornado, according to dispatches received this afternoon. In Havana business was suspended. The wind tore roofs off buildings and uprooted trees. Many persons were injured and ships driven ashore.

A CHICAGO MYSTERY.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—With indications that death resulted from knife thrust into the top of his head, penetrating the brain, the body of Walter E. Coles, president of the Keefe, Coles Printing company, was discovered this morning on the shore of Lake Michigan, where it had been washed up by the waves. Coles had been mysteriously missing since last Friday.

IN PROBATE COURT

Samuel A. Thompson, administrator of the estate of the late Sarah E. Thompson, has filed final settlement report showing that the total disbursements and receipts were $6,187.61. Much of the decedent's property was stock in Gaar, Scott and Company.

All debts and disbursements according to the will of the late Elizabeth Weigel have been met and Benjamin F. Drischel the executor who has filed final report. The total value of the estate as shown by the report was $5,499.68.

According to the will of the late Amanda Stonebraker who died on January 24, 1908, but whose will was not probated in the circuit court until Thursday, all the property is left to the decedent's children.

The late Charles D. Miller of Abington, who died on October 1, died seized of an estate of the probable value of $500 which is left to the widow Ethel P. Miller who is also named executrix.

GAME TO MARRY HER

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Reading in a newspaper that Miss Eugenie Adams in Washington, D. C. had advertised for a man who would consent to be her husband for one short hour, and for that hour only, Frank S. Walters, of Gary, Ind., young, handsome and husky, says he is willing to marry the woman.

"The $200 that she offers for a bridegroom looks good to me," he said, "and, to show that I am a good fellow, I will agree to spend the money before I leave her. I'm ready to start for Washington at once."

Walters is twenty-six. He weighs 190 pounds and is known as the "Samson of the steel works."
